

COMPUTER NETWORK AND INTERNET ACCEPTABLE USE POLICY FOR STUDENTS OF THE GLOUCESTER PUBLIC SCHOOLS

The Internet, a worldwide network of interconnected computers, provides an opportunity for users to communicate with each other, no matter how far apart they are geographically. Because of its enormous size, the Internet provides an almost limitless amount of information that can be put to great educational purposes. The potentially limitless amount of information available on the Internet creates the potential for the posting or retrieval, intentionally or unintentionally, of inappropriate or harmful material. It is the purpose of these guidelines to assist all members of the Gloucester Public Schools Computer Network, which includes World Wide Web access and electronic mail capability, to use this resource safely and appropriately.

The Gloucester Public Schools Computer Network, which includes World Wide Web access and electronic mail capability, exists solely for educational purposes, which are defined as classroom activities, research projects directly related to class assignments, career and professional development and high quality self-discovery activities of an educational nature. The Gloucester Public Schools computer network is not to be considered a resource intended for use as a public forum or for any purpose that is not directly related to the delivery of educational services.

Members of the Gloucester Public Schools community are responsible for good behavior on school computer networks just as they are in a classroom or school hallway. Communications on the network may reach larger audiences than face-to-face conversations or telephone discussions. General school rules for behavior and communications apply. Access to network services will be provided to those who act in a considerate and responsible manner.

The Gloucester Public Schools believes that the benefits to students from access to information resources and opportunity for collaboration available through the Internet exceed the potential disadvantages. However, the parents and guardians of minors are responsible for setting and conveying the standards that their children should follow when using media and information sources. To that end, the Gloucester Public Schools respects each family's right to decide whether or not their child will have independent access to the World Wide Web and an individual e-mail account at school. In making this decision, families should be aware that Gloucester Public Schools intends to incorporate network use, Web access and e-mail in the schools according to grade level as follows:

- a. Grades kindergarten through three. Students at these grade levels will not have individual computer network passwords or e-mail accounts. During school time, teachers of students in grades kindergarten through three will guide them toward appropriate materials. Web access at these grade levels will be limited to teacher-directed and teacher-demonstrated use. Students will not be conducting independent research on the World Wide Web, nor will they be sending or receiving electronic mail independently.
- b. Grades four and five. Students in grades four and five will not have individual computer network passwords or e-mail accounts. Students at these grade levels may have the opportunity to conduct research via the Web in the classroom, and to access electronic mail for a group account, only during directly supervised instruction.
- c. Grades six through twelve. Students in grades six through twelve may be given individual access passwords and receive individual e-mail accounts, and may have the opportunity to access the Web and conduct independent, self-directed research, both during classroom instruction and outside of classroom instruction, under the supervision (direct and or indirect) of a teacher or other staff member.

For students to be permitted to gain independent access to the web or individual e-mail accounts, they must agree to and abide by the rules set out below. For students under 18, parents must provide written permission forms before students will be permitted to gain independent access to the web or individual e-mail accounts. If the Gloucester Public Schools does not receive a signed user agreement and, if applicable, a signed parental permission form, students will not gain independent access to the web or individual e-mail accounts, but they may still have exposure to the Internet during classroom instruction or library research exercises.

The Gloucester Public Schools will make every reasonable effort to minimize the risk that users will encounter objectionable material on the Internet. However, there is no absolute guarantee that this will not happen. The Gloucester Public Schools intends to utilize any blocking or filtering safeguards required by law. With these measures, in addition to user education, implementation of this policy and grade-appropriate supervision, the Gloucester Public Schools believes that the Internet can be used safely to enhance the delivery of educational services.

Rules:

Electronic mail messages and other use of electronic resources by students and staff, including accessing web pages, should not be considered confidential. ited (cache files), are stored on the computer network's back-up files. The Gloucester Public Schools reserves the right to access and monitor all messages and files on the computer system, including web pages accessed, as it deems necessary and appropriate in the ordinary course of its business for purposes including, but not limited to, ensuring proper use of resources, investigating allegations of improper use and conducting routine network maintenance. By participating in the school district's computer network, users are indicating their consent to such monitoring and access. Where appropriate, communications including text and images may be disclosed to law enforcement or other third parties without prior consent of the sender or receiver.
